Register for an NSF Account to Begin Using FastLane and Research.gov
To submit proposals to the National Science Foundation (NSF) and conduct other award-related activities using NSF systems, you must have an NSF ID. You may only have one NSF ID. This ID is a unique numerical identifier assigned to users by NSF through the registration process outlined below. The NSF ID is yours for you to use no matter your affiliation(s) in the future. Follow the step-by-step process to create a new NSF account.

Step 1: Confirm you do not have an existing NSF account
- Access the NSF ID Lookup page to search for an existing NSF account.
- If you forgot your password for an established NSF account, click here to retrieve it. Note that your email address can only be associated with one NSF account (i.e., only one NSF ID per person).
- If you do have an existing NSF account and you know your password, you can edit your account profile information by selecting the “My Profile” option located on the top right of Research.Gov homepage. Click here for detailed information on “My Profile” functions.
- If you do not have an existing NSF account, proceed to Step 2.

Step 2: Access the Account Registration page
- Open Research.Gov
- Click “Register” located at the top of the screen. (Figure 1)

Please make sure you have ongoing access to this email account (e.g., a Gmail address). It is critical that you have continued access to this email account, even if you were to ever change organizations.
- Check the box to confirm that you are at least 13 years of age. (Figure 2)
- Click “Save & Preview”. (Figure 2)
- Verify that your account registration information is correct on the Preview Account Registration screen
- If you need to update your account registration information, select the “Edit” button to return to the previous screen.
- Check the box to confirm you are not a robot and click “Submit”. (Figure 3)
- You will receive an Account Registration Confirmation on the screen. (Figure 4)
- Check the primary email account that you just used for two messages: one containing your new NSF ID and another containing your temporary password.
- Click “Sign In” on Research.Gov and enter your new NSF ID and temporary password. (Figure 1)
- Follow the instructions to change your temporary password.
- You have successfully registered for a new NSF account!

Step 4: Add a New Role
- Now that you have an NSF account, you can add roles to your account profile. Click here for detailed instructions.

Important Note: GRFP Applicants and Fellows do not need a role. GRFP Account Management training resources including guides and FAQs are available here

Navigating the Account Management Links

The Account Management system includes pages for Administrators to manage user and organization information and pages for users to self-manage their roles and profile information. Access these pages and the updated functionality by signing in to Research.Gov and clicking on the “My Profile” link in the top right.

Access the left navigation bar in Account Management

- Enter your credentials (e.g., NSF ID and password) and click “Sign In”. (Figure 2)
- Click on “My Profile” located at the top right of the screen. (Figure 3)

Important Note: NSF enabled Login.Gov to sign in to Research.gov in January 2022. Use of Login.gov to sign in to Research.gov is optional, and the research community is still able to use their NSF Account or their university-issued credentials through the InCommon integration to sign in to Research.gov. A user who has an NSF account linked to their organizational credentials or Login.gov credentials available on the “NSF User Sign In” page (Figure 2) will also be navigated to the “My Profile” menu tab after signing in to Research.gov. This guide provides instructions for only the “NSF Account” sign in option.

Register a New Organization
Organizations must be registered with the National Science Foundation (NSF) to submit proposals using NSF’s systems or via Grants.gov. Before a new organization can register with NSF, it must first be registered in the System for Award Management (SAM) at Sam.Gov and have a Unique Entity Identifier (UEI). Note that completion of the SAM registration process may take two weeks. Please check Sam.Gov for information about any delays.

Follow the step-by-step process below to register a new organization with NSF.

How do I register a new organization with NSF?

1. Open Research.Gov
2. Click “Sign In” located at the top right of the screen.
3. Enter your credentials (e.g., NSF ID and password) and click “Sign In”.
4. Click “My Profile” located at the top right of the screen.
5. Click “Add New Role” from the left navigation bar.
6. Click “Add Organizational Role” located in the “Add and Manage Organizations” box. (Figure 1).
   - Note: If an organization is new to NSF, you must start the process by setting yourself up as the Administrator for the new organization. You must have an NSF account to start this process. The system will automatically detect that the organization is new and will walk you through setting up the organization and Administrator role.
   - Enter your organization’s Unique Entity Identifier (UEI) and click “Search.” If your organization is not already registered with NSF, a message will display to confirm that the organization is not found in NSF systems and you will be able to register the organization and become the first Administrator. (Figure 2)
   - If you need help registering in the System for Award Management (SAM), go to Sam.Gov.
   - Note that completion of the SAM registration process may take two weeks. Please check Sam.Gov for information about any delays.

Helpful Tip
If a new organization is registered with NSF without an Administrator, the first user to request a role will become the organization’s first Administrator.
How do I register a new organization with NSF?

- Enter your contact information for the Administrator role, add your organization’s information, and then click “Next”. (Figure 3)
- Notice the “Administrator” role is pre-selected. Click “Next”. (Figure 4)
